ADULT mag Playboy has sensationally cut links with porn legend Mia Khalifa after she made comments online loudly supporting the terror attacks by Hamas that left up to 1,000 Israelis dead.

Khalifa's page now shows a 'Not Found' graphic on the website, as Playboy released a statement confirming that she is no longer creating content for their CENTERFOLD platform.

Loons go to A&E with HICCUPS!

THE creaking NHS is being put under more strain by halfwits going to hospital casualty departments with HICCUPS!

A&E departments also report seeing a huge rise in people attending with minor niggles like sore throats, insomnia, coughs and earache.

Cases where sore throat was the chief complaint rose 77% between 2021/22 and 2022/23, from 191,900 cases to 340,441.

Patients going to A&E with coughs rose 47% from 219,388 to 322,500, while attendances for nosebleeds rose from 47,285 cases to 56,546.

Persistent strain on GPs means patients often resort to A&E when they cannot access care elsewhere.

Miriam Deakin, of NHS Providers, said: "The rise in A&E admissions is piling more pressure on to an already-stretched NHS."

Butter price starts to melt

GROCERY price inflation has fallen again with the average price of a pack of butter now 16p less than a year ago, figures show.

Prices across grocers were 11% higher than a year ago to October 1, down from the previous month's 12.2%, analysts Kantar said.

It is the seventh consecutive decline in the rate of price rises since the figure peaked at 17.5% in March.

The latest fall was helped by special offers in supermarkets. They accounted for 26.5% of sales over the last 12 weeks.

FRENCH BEDBUGS INVADE LONDON TUBE

SADIQ Khan says the possibility of bedbugs on London's public transport is a 'real source of concern'.

The Mayor of London is in contact with officials in Paris after the French capital became overwhelmed by outbreaks of bedbugs, with footage showing them crawling on seats of buses and trains.

Transport for London are said to be keeping an eye on the situation and are disinfecting seats daily as part of its cleaning protocol.

Despite the measures in place, a video went viral over the weekend, gathering more than a million views, of what is claimed to be a bedbug on a passenger's leg on the Victoria line.

There are also fears that the infestation could have travelled further north in the UK after a bedbug was supposedly spotted on a bus in Manchester on Monday.

In response to the threat of bedbugs, Mr Khan said: "This is a real source of concern. People are worried about these bugs in Paris causing a problem in London."

He added: "I want to reassure those listening that TfL has the best regimes to clean our assets on a nightly basis. We are speaking to our friends in Paris to see if there are any lessons to be learnt but for a variety of reasons we don't think those issues will arise in London; but there is no complacency from TfL."

Sunak: We'll keep Jews safe in UK

RISHI Sunak has said he will "stop at nothing" to keep Britain's Jewish community safe, before promising support for Israel along with other world leaders after the Hamas attacks.

The Prime Minister addressed a synagogue in London to express his solidarity for Israel and to reassure Britain's Jews.

"We stand with Israel, the United Kingdom stands with Israel against this terrorism today, tomorrow and always," Mr Sunak said.

Mr Sunak, US President Joe Biden, French President Emmanuel Macron, German Chancellor Olaf Scholz and Italian Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni promised their "steadfast and united support to Israel, and our condemnation of Hamas and its appalling acts of terrorism".

Home Secretary Suella Braverman has called on police chiefs to step up patrols in areas with large Jewish communities amid concerns they could be subjected to antisemitic abuse.

Brits caught up in conflict

A "SIGNIFICANT number" of British-Israeli dual nationals have been caught up in the conflict in Israel and Gaza, the Foreign Secretary has said.

James Cleverly said he is "uncomfortable" giving exact numbers about the number of Britons affected by the fighting in the Middle East due to the situation being "fast-moving".

He added: "Even from the Israeli government, a lot of the figures about the casualties and fatalities are as yet to be fully confirmed."

"So I don't really want to speculate but we do know that a significant number of British-Israeli dual nationals have been in some way involved in the terrorist atrocities."

Israel hits back after Hamas murderers slaughter 1,000 innocents...

NOW THEY SHALL REAP THE WHIRLWIND

ISRAEL is believed to be preparing for a full-scale invasion of Gaza after Hamas terrorists butchered 1,000 Israelis at the weekend.

Jets from the Israel Defence Force pummelled Gaza with a staggering 200 air raids ahead of the expected assault by troops.

As pictures of the devastation rained down on Gaza flashed around the world, many took to Twitter quoting the biblical Book of Hosea: "For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind."

Israel has warned civilians in the area to flee across the border to Egypt with PM

Benjamin Netanyahu warning his armed forces would reduce Gaza to 'rubble'.

Meanwhile, death squads from Israel's feared foreign intelligence agency Mossad will launch assassination attempts against Hamas commanders.

Targets

"We are going to act towards Hamas in every way, like the West treated Daesh [ISIS]. Operationally, that means eradicating their leaders and fighters," an Israeli government official said.

"But there will be international and diplomatic implications as well."

Israeli forces will now be seeking targets in territories outside of Gaza, where Hamas officials have sought refuge.

Sources said Israel would put pressure on countries like Qatar, which has donated hundreds of millions of dollars to Hamas and currently houses Hamas Chief Ismail Haniyeh.

It was not clear which chiefs Israel would immediately target in its campaign.

Ismail Haniyeh is the main leader of Hamas, living outside of Gaza in Doha, Qatar.

He named the weekend's bloody outrage 'Operation Al-Aqsa Flood' and pledged to continue the 'battle to liberate our land and our prisoners'.

Haniyeh said Palestinian factions would push on with the operation in the West Bank and Jerusalem.

Yahya Sinwar, head of Hamas in Gaza, is also a target in focus for Israeli death squads.

Israel Defence Force spokesperson Rear Admiral Daniel Hagari said: "Yahya Sinwar is the commander of the campaign, and he is a dead man."

Hagari claimed Hamas' "military and political leadership, all of its assets, are subject to attack and doomed."

Hamas is a Palestinian group outlawed in the UK and the standing authority in Gaza, an enclave on the Mediterranean coast.

PROTESTER STORMS STARMER SPEECH

LABOUR leader Sir Keir Starmer was covered in glitter by a protester as he took to the stage to address the Labour Party Conference.

The start of Sir Keir's speech in Liverpool was disrupted shortly after 2pm on Tuesday by a protester who stormed the stage and threw glitter at the Labour leader, shouting: "True democracy is citizen led."

The Labour leader pushed the activist away from the mic with his arm before security arrived. The man continued to shout

"politics needs an update," "we demand a people's house," "we are in crisis" and "our whole future is in jeopardy" as he was wrestled to the ground and dragged away by two burly female security guards.

After the interruption, Sir Keir opened his speech by saying: "If he thinks that bothers me, he doesn't know me."

He later said the Conservatives will put the NHS "into the ground" if they win the next election.

Starmer added: "The Conservatives have brought the NHS to its knees and will put it in the ground. We have got to get it back on its feet."

MY BOOBS PAY FOR AN ANIMAL SANCTUARY!

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

JUICY Jodie Marsh has revealed her famous boobs have helped rescue HUNDREDS of animals!

The generous former glamour model and bodybuilder said that her OnlyFans page has helped pay for her animal sanctuary.

Jodie, 44, founded Fripps Farm in Great Dunmow, Essex, in 2020, which is now home to more than 400 animals.

She said she was "living in my dream" running the business and was the "happiest" she has ever been.

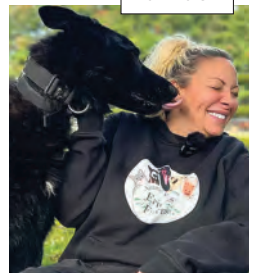

Jodie said OnlyFans was "amazing" and "paid my staff wages for the first year", adding: "They all joke and say, 'Your boobs pay our wages'."

"It costs us about £16,000 a month to run this place and that's with everything, with the vet bills, paying staff to be here full time, all the animal feed, bedding and all the bits they need, from medication to the farrier cutting their feet."

"We basically have to find that money every month."

HAPPY ON THE JOB:
Jodie loves animals

OnlyFans is a social media platform for over 18s where users – including musicians, actors and other celebs – charge a subscription fee for their content and the material often includes nudity or is sexually explicit. Jodie said of her current job looking after animals: "I see this as a privilege and an honour to help animals and earn their trust and to make them happy."

UK economy 'still weakest'

THE UK is forecast to record the weakest economic growth across the G7 group of advanced economies next year, according to the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

The IMF said UK interest rates are set to remain high for "a little while longer", into at least next year, due to concerns over persistent inflation.

In its report, the IMF said: "The decline in (UK) growth reflects tighter monetary policies to curb still-high inflation and lingering impacts of the terms-of-trade shock from high energy prices." But experts have warned that IMF forecasts are consistently wrong.

Asylum seekers must return to the Bibby barge

THE Home Office has begun notifying asylum seekers they are to be sent back to a migrant barge off England's south coast next week.

In a statement, it confirmed they would be moved back on to the Bibby Stockholm (above) "following the vessel completing all necessary tests".

Thirty-nine men were moved on to the vessel in August. They were later removed when the Legionella bacteria, which can cause serious illness, was detected.

The asylum seekers were given letters from the Home Office on Monday, explaining they'd be returned to the barge on October 19.

In the letter, the asylum seekers were told: "...You will be required to move to the Bibby Stockholm barge..." and that "this accommodation is offered on a no-choice basis".

It also said while "this is not detention accommodation" the men would need to "sign in and out of the site when you leave and return".

World's flowers face extinction

FORTY-five per cent of the world's known flowering plants could be threatened by extinction, scientists have warned.

Those under threat include orchids, varieties of pineapple, and many important crop species.

Of the nearly 19,000 new plants and fungi species discovered since 2020, 77% are thought to be endangered.

The study by the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, examined research by 200 scientists in 30 countries.

HALL ON SHOW: Madeley isn't shy about getting her busters out

By SUZY SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

WITH death and turmoil crowding the headlines, we all need an escape to a nice, happier place.

And that's been provided by the return of All Creatures Great And Small to Channel Five.

The first episode of series four saw viewers overjoyed to have their favourite period drama return.

We welcome back familiar faces such as James Herriot (played by Nicholas Ralph) and Helen Herriot (played by Rachel Shenton).

Heartwarming

The series is a 21st century reboot of the 1978 show starring Christopher Timothy, Peter Davison, Robert Hardy and Carol Brinkwater.

Fans took to social media to respond to seeing beloved characters Siegfried Farnon, played by Samuel West, and Mrs Hall's, played by Anna Madeley, heartwarming bond on screens once again, and many are hoping a romance will blossom between them.

The official account for the show posted a video on X Twitter, showing Siegfried and Mrs Hall engaging in a sweet conversation.

Fans responded underneath, with one writing: "Friendship often leads to love. We can but hope." Another echoed this, adding: "They are far closer than friends, they need each other and know each other so well."

Well, why wouldn't Siegfried fall for his housekeeper – especially when she has boobs like this?

DEMI: WHY I LOVE NUTS

(Steady on there, lads!)

EVER wondered how busty Demi Rose keeps her gorgeous figure?

It's all to do with sucking on NUTS!

Demi insisted she sticks to her 'healthy' routine and she admitted nuts are the fattiest foods she eats. She said: "I try to keep as healthy as I can. With travelling, it's hard to work out, I travel across the world but try to keep my routine..."

"Everyone says I'm the healthiest person they know. The fattiest thing I will ever eat is nuts and peanut butter.

My figure just gains weight so fast.

"Any bad thing I eat my body isn't used to it and just puts on the weight. That means no birthday cake."

Demi's fondness for nuts comes as she revealed new snaps on Instagram in which she posed NUDE, with just paint covering her modesty.

The Sutton Coldfield-born beauty, 28, looked phenomenal in the racy look which made the most of her famously curvaceous figure.

As well as making a statement with her physique, the brunette beauty went for bold accessories complete with a Cleopatra-inspired headress.

As well as the bejewelled headress, she later slipped into a bedazzled pink bodysuit with her hair styled into bleach braids – for an edgy touch.

Hallie wants Big Bruv cash for new fanny

TRANS Big Brother housemate Hallie would blow part of the £100k prize money on a new MINGE!

It comes after the youth worker, 18, came out as transgender to fellow housemates, admitting it would not have felt 'authentic' to not tell them.

Hallie went on to tell pals Kerry and Jenkin that £30k of the winner's prize would be spent on Feminising Genital Surgery.

Hallie said: "If I win I'm going to get a vagina."

A designer vagina. And I'm going to pay my mum back for all the years she paid for my treatment."

An emotional Kerry asked how much it would cost, to which Hallie replied: "Like 30 grand."

"The mind doesn't match the body. That's the best way to describe being trans. I have a female mind, but the body doesn't match."

Hallie also explained that due to not being in the correct body yet, it has stopped nookie.

Rent a council house to live years longer

RENTING in the private sector leads to quicker biological ageing than owning your own home or being in a council house, according to boffins.

They found private renting negatively affects health, with the impact being nearly double that of being out of work versus having paid employment.

Biological ageing refers to the decline in functioning of the body's tissues and cells.

Previous studies have suggested that biological ageing can accelerate during stressful events in a person's life.

The experts behind the new study said renting privately means faster biological ageing.

People living in social housing seemed to fare better, however, in part because of the security it offers and lower costs.

Playboy sever ties with star PORN LEGEND MIA SACKED OVER CRUEL ISRAEL JIBES

PLAYBOY has cut ties with porn star Mia Khalifa after comments that sparked fury online supporting terror attacks by Hamas that left almost 1,000 Israelis dead.

She wrote multiple tweets making light of the horror conflict, joking about a "Zionist apartheid regime being brought down by guerrilla fighters in fake Gucci shirts".

Khalifa's page now shows a 'Not Found' graphic on the website, as the adult magazine released a statement confirming that she is no longer creating content for their Centerfold platform, which she joined in 2022.

"We are writing today to let you know of our decision to terminate Playboy's relationship with Mia Khalifa, including deleting Mia's Playboy channel on our creator platform," they wrote in an email to users.

Hate

"Mia has made some disgusting and reprehensible comments celebrating Hamas' attacks on Israel and the murder of innocent men, women, and children," they added.

"At Playboy, we encourage free expression and constructive political debate, but we have a zero-tolerance policy for hate speech. We expect Mia to understand her words and actions have consequences," the statement finished.

The OnlyFans star, 30, repeatedly supported the group's bombings and kidnappings to her five million followers on Twitter, urging the aggressors to film horizontally so she could better see the carnage.

The Lebanese-American posted: "Can someone please tell the freedom fighters in Palestine to flip their phones."

Khalifa also shared an image of the terrorists riding in the back of a truck, calling it a "Renaissance painting."

She tried damage control, tweeting: "I just want to make it clear that this statement in no way shape or form is enticing spread of violence, I said freedom fighters because that's what the Palestinian citizens are... fighting for freedom every day."

Centerfold - created by Playboy as a way to allow models to sell content - highlighted Khalifa's opinions when she joined the platform.

"Mia's fearless, direct, thought-provoking and fun-loving approach to life and her career make her an important addition to our Centerfold community," said CEO Ben Kohn at the time.

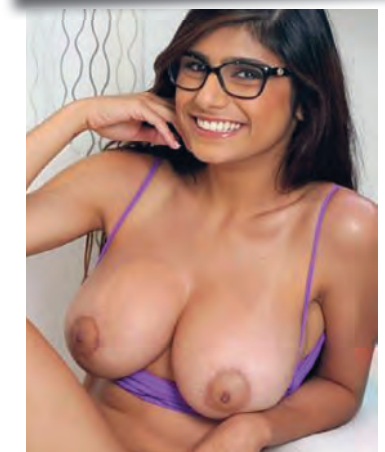

Dear Creator Community,

We are writing today to let you know of our decision to terminate Playboy's relationship with Mia Khalifa, including deleting Mia's Playboy channel on our creator platform. Over the past few days, Mia has made disgusting and reprehensible comments celebrating Hamas' attacks on Israel and the murder of innocent men, women and children. At Playboy, we encourage free expression and constructive political debate, but we have a zero tolerance policy for hate speech. We expect Mia to understand that her words and actions have consequences. We included the letter we shared with Mia below.

Thank you,

Arnie: ballsy folk made US – not wimps!

ACTION movie legend Arnold Schwarzenegger has warned against creating a "generation of wimps".

"The more you struggle the further you're gonna go and the stronger you're going to get," Arnie, 76, said on The Howard Stern Show. "It's the way the world works."

The Predator star explained that "young kids today" tend to shy away and "baby themselves" from the struggle that comes with hard work in order to achieve success.

"Anybody that tries to baby themselves and pamper themselves – 'Oh, I don't want to feel bad, I don't really want to go through any discomfort' – it's over," he added.

"You have to be able to struggle." The Terminator actor then asked a rhetorical question of which group helped build the US: "Is it people that slept in? Was it people that were wimping out?"

"No. These were ballsy women and men that went out there at five in the morning and got up and they struggled, and they fought, and they worked their butts off.

"That's what made this country great.

"Continue this way. Don't start creating a generation of wimps and weak people."

Floppy flasher avoids prison

A PERV pensioner dodged jail because he had a floppy cock.

Cyril Alexander has been flashing his penis at women for nearly 30 years, and on occasions went even further by "pleasuring himself" in front of them.

He committed a gross act of indecency 20 years ago by masturbating in front of a stranger and "smiling as he did it".

At Downpatrick Crown Court, the 76-year-old, of Ballywalter, County Down, entered guilty pleas to seven charges of exposure and one of committing an act of gross indecency.

But he walked free after a judge handed him a 32-month jail sentence which was suspended for three years.

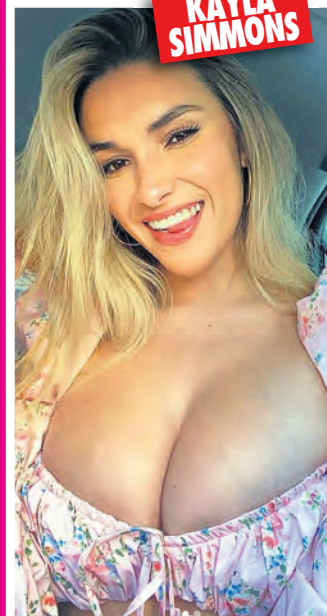

The judge was clear that part of the reason Alexander avoided jail was due to his inability to "get it up" anymore.

Regarding the future risk he poses, Judge Geoffrey Miller said that as the pensioner suffers from erectile dysfunction, there would be a "low likelihood of reoffending".

WITH a President who can't put his own shoes on and a Congress that's threatening to close the country down, you'd think American politics can't get any crazier.

But then Donald Trump comes along and declares: "Hold my beer..."

Because the former President announced Hannibal Lecter is a supporter, in a slip-up

Trump criticised open border policies and claimed people were coming to America from “insane asylums” before bringing up The Silence of the Lambs.

Mix-up

“Hannibal Lecter, how great an actor was he?” said Trump in an apparent mix-up between the fictional character’s name and Anthony Hopkins, the actor who played the cannibal in the 1991 hit film.

him? Because he said on television, 'I love Donald Trump'. So I love him. I love him. I love him.

"He said that a long time ago and once he said that, he was in my camp. I was in his camp.

"I don't care if he was the worst actor, I'd say he was great to me."

Hopkins has NOT publicly supported Trump and neither have any other actors who have portrayed Hannibal Lecter.

This included Mads Mikkelsen and Brian Cox, the latter of whom called Trump “such a fking asshole” and “so full of shit”.

Hopkins, who was born in Wales and later became a naturalised US citizen in 2000, told The Guardian that he doesn't care for Trump and explained that he doesn't vote because he doesn't "trust anyone".

"We've never got it right, human beings. We are all a mess, and we're very early in our evolution," the actor said back in 2018.

Funding helps fannies reopen

THE world's first museum dedicated to MINGES will reopen next month with a new exhibition, thanks to public fundraising after it was forced to close for months and relocate.

The museum was forced to shut its east London premises in February when a property guardianship ended.

After exceeding an £85k fundraising target, the museum was able to set up in a new, bigger location in Bethnal Green, east London, which opens on November 4.

"It was a make or break scenario," said Zoe Williams, head of communications. "We genuinely didn't know how successful it would be, especially in the cost of living crisis when so many people in our community are really feeling the pinch... it's just wonderful."

Amanda Myrene Fields Moffett, 43 (above), of Nowata, Oklahoma, entered the plea after being hit with an involuntary manslaughter charge in Indian country for the tragic incident five years ago that killed her daughter Laramie, 16, the US Attorney's Office for the Northern District of Oklahoma said.

On October 5, 2018, Moffett's daughter told her a dog was attacking kittens outside.

The mum admitted she stepped out onto her front porch and fired a handgun into the dark yard at what she believed was the stray dog, but without confirming that her daughter was out of her line of fire.

Moffett was charged with first-degree murder with deliberate intent at first, but the case was later dismissed.

She now faces up to eight years in prison.

SCIENTISTS have shown off an electrifying new treatment for erectile dysfunction that's said to be better than popping a little blue pill.

New research published in the International Journal of Impotence Research said self-administered, low-intensity radio frequency zaps to the penis could be effective for ED treatment due to anatomical and physiological changes in the penile tissue.

When used at lower frequencies, the radio frequency creates heat, due to the interaction between molecules and ions, triggering structural changes and the creation of collagen and elastic fibres, according to study author Dr Ilan Gruenewald.

Overall, participants did not complain of any side effects, and reported that the device was "comfortable, simple and easy to operate".

SOCIAL WORKER HAD SEX WITH BOY, 13

FOOTAGE ON HER PHONE: Payton Shires

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A SOCIAL worker was arrested for having sex with a teen boy she was assigned to counsel.

Payton Shires, 24, allegedly admitted to the disturbing behaviour during a call with the 13-year-old's mum and detectives in Columbus, Ohio.

Shires, of Mount Sterling, was previously employed by the National Youth Advocate Programme, a group which specialises in working with families involved in the foster-care system.

It remains unclear whether she was assigned to the boy through NYAP.

The boy's mother contacted police on September 27 to report her suspicions after discovering inappropriate text messages between her son and Shires, court documents showed.

Cops allegedly conducted a search of the phone and discovered footage of the boy and Shires having sexual contact.

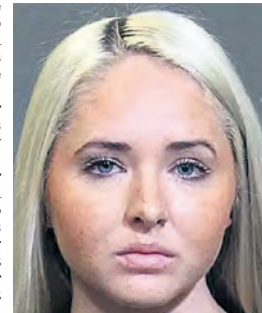

When investigators interviewed the teenager, he reportedly admitted to having sex with Shires on at least two occasions in September.

Shires was arrested after allegedly admitting her behaviour with the boy to his mother on the call monitored by police.

She was charged with unlawful sexual conduct with a minor. State records show that the social worker was licensed in June.

Saddened

"The National Youth Advocate Programme is saddened by the situation involving one of our former employees and a young person served by our organisation," the organisation said in a statement.

Jeweller has poo taken by Customs

A WOMAN was stopped by Customs officers after she was found with giraffe shit that she planned to turn into a necklace.

The droppings were seized by border officials at Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport after the female, returning from Kenya, declared the animal faeces, prompting an inspection by agriculture specialists.

The unnamed passenger said she previously used moose poop to make jewellery at home in Iowa.

However, the giraffe poop was taken away and destroyed.

LaFonda D. Sutton-Burke, CBP Director of Field Operations, said: "There is high possibility a person could have contracted a disease from this jewellery."

'WRONG WOMAN' KILLER FACES LIFE

A MAN is facing life in prison for murdering a mum he mistook for his ex-girlfriend last year.

Richard Montano, 48, was convicted of first-degree murder and arson in connection with the death of Silvia "Kelly" Vaca Abacay.

She was found fatally beaten, stabbed, and then set on fire in August 2022.

At the time of the vicious attack, Silvia, 40, was staying at the Fall Church, Virginia, apartment of her friend Fatima Via Rojas, who had ended an eight-year relationship with Montano (below) just a month earlier.

He mistook Silvia for his ex when he unleashed his rage – causing at least 10 blunt force injuries and 10 stab wounds.

Police were alerted to the scene when a neighbour heard screams and called 911.

That call was also played to jurors during Montano's Fairfax County trial.

Montano is due to be sentenced in January next year.

THE former mayor of a small town drunkenly led cops on a high-speed chase, and told them: "What you're doing is wrong," as she tried to use her former position to avoid arrest.

Cathy Luks, 66 (above), who served as the mayor of North Royalton in Ohio from 1999 to 2007, was pulled over after cops noticed she was driving with an expired licence plate.

When an officer caught up with her, she seemed dazed and confused and refused to cooperate, body camera footage released by the Parma Police Department shows.

After a chat with the officer, Luks sped off before crashing into a tow truck.

She was pulled from the car and when the cop got his handcuffs out, she tried to pull the "Do you know who I am?" trick.

Luks faces several charges including operating a vehicle while intoxicated.

MIDWEEK Sport
5-PAGE SPECIAL

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A SHOW called The Super Models is currently very popular on Apple TV+.

Famous clothes horses from the 1980s and Nineties are telling the world about their experiences.

And what do we know about supermodels of that era?

They were all pretty stick-thin.

Then things got even more extreme in the Noughties where many models looked, well... plain unwell.

But that's all in the past now, thankfully.

The world has caught up with us broadminded folks here at Midweek Sport who love women of ALL shapes and sizes.

And today, the world celebrates Curves Day, where the fuller figure is showcased.

So here are FIVE bouncy pages of ladies showing off their sexy and squeezable bods.

Hurrah!

#MY SEX FANTASY

'It's such a thrill doing it with a camera on'

...WITH
ALEXIS JONES,
30E, FROM
MAIDSTONE,
KENT

MY favourite sexual fantasy is making a sex tape – it's such a major turn-on for me.

I have a tripod right next to my bed at all times so when I bring a fella home, he needs to be up for it!

It's such a thrill getting carried away and knowing the record button is on.

I enjoy watching my home movies back and also watching ourselves in real time – I have my camera hooked up to my 60-inch TV on my bedroom wall.

I love doing it doggy style with my phone in between our legs. It's so hot to see a cock going in and out of my pussy, his balls banging around, and then the cum dripping out of me afterwards.

Another favourite position is the bloke sat against the headboard with me on top, facing the camera.

Men love seeing my huge boobs bouncing up and down and it gives a nice view of his cock pounding my pussy, too.

I feel like a filthy porn star – it really brings out the exhibitionist in me.

I've never done it, but I'd love to wear some masks and share our sex tape on an amateur porn site.

That would be so horny.

Cops uncover man shot dead in stalled car

COPS who stopped to help a stalled car on a busy road found a DEAD BODY in the passenger seat.

Jihad Abdul Malik Gasaway, 23 (above), was charged with murder and abuse of a corpse, despite his claims the late rider had been alive just moments before police arrived.

Gasaway was trying to restart his stranded Silver 2010 Chevrolet Malibu on the side of the highway in Malcolm, Iowa, when the cops arrived to help.

He asked for a jump start and admitted to officers that he was in possession of a gun.

The cops noticed there was a second man lying slumped in the passenger seat "covered with various clothing".

Kemp Xavier Sherrod Harriel, 26, was unresponsive and appeared to be suffering from gunshot wounds.

A 9mm shell casing was found on the front floorboard and two expended bullets were in the front passenger door, officials said.

Sex change death risks

CHANGING sex will kill you stone dead, boffins say.

Men taking female hormones like oestrogen, in a bid to be ladies, are up to 95 percent more likely to suffer from heart disease compared to men who leave themselves as God intended, researchers have found.

A study published in the European Journal of Endocrinology showed all trans people were at a "significantly higher risk" of a host of serious and potentially deadly medical conditions, including heart attacks and strokes.

The authors used health data from 2,671 trans people in their early to mid-20s in Denmark.

They then compared the rate of heart disease seen in the trans patients to a control group of 26,700 people.

Transgender women taking oestrogen had a 93% increased risk of heart problems versus the men in the study.

BUM SEX STAR KIMMY:

DAD HATED ME DOING PORN... NOW HE'S MY MANAGER!

DADDY'S GIRL: Kimmy is managed by her father

A PORN star has told how her dad went from being HORRIFIED by her career to being her MANAGER.

Kimmy Granger, 27, started off as a stripper before converting to X-rated work in her 20s.

She's one of the world's top porn stars, filming spunk-splattered oral, full sex and ANAL scenes.

But her dad was "mortified" by her chosen path.

But with a million followers on Instagram, Kimmy says her dad has now come round to support her choices and has even become her manager.

Kimmy appeared on Holly Randall's Unfiltered podcast, where she spoke about how her dad was initially "disturbed" and could not come to terms with her explicit job.

She said: "My dad, when he did find out, it was traumatising. He was mortified, he wanted to die. He was like, 'what the fk did I do wrong as a father?'

By HARPER HAYES

She added: "No dad wants that for their kids. It disturbed him and I gave him the space he needed, and then some months down the road I would always reach out to him."

But Kimmy revealed he has come around to the idea, and is "proud" that she is "happy" and "stable".

She continued: "I don't ever want him to think that I went into this to hurt him... I went into this because I wanted it, I really genuinely feel like it's the right thing for me. I love, love, love this job. It was almost like porn brought my dad and I closer together.

"My dad and I never were close. I was always focused on my mum. My mum was an alcoholic and just gone, she was done with life."

Team

In fact, her dad is now so supportive that he has taken an active role in her career.

She continued: "I made it very clear to him that I'm safe and happy and not on drugs. Now he manages my finances and my bookkeeping. We're like a team."

Lily, who has 32D boobs, said: "The traction engine community are really friendly and although a lot of them are older gents, they

"They hand me an oil can or a grease gun and let me get to work lubricating things.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Happiness is a Golden Retriever

BRED TO DO JUST ONE OF TWO THINGS: Tugs

HOW is it that dogs – every single last one of them ultimately descended from flesh-hungry killer wolves – can be more graceful than the people who pretend to care for them?

The missus and I were out on Sunday afternoon on the nearby promenade, babysitting a friend's Golden Retriever, named Tugs.

Anyone who has experienced walking such a breed knows that "walking" should instead be replaced with either "just standing still with a grin on my face" or "standing still while sniffing piss".

And as the dog is as likely to shift an inch for you as China is to give up territorial claims upon Taiwan, the swarm of admirers descend.

"Can [insert brat's name here] stroke him?" is the constant request, and yes, mais oui, Mademoiselle L'Mange Tat-tout, your nose-ringed three-year-old can touch the blond beast.

"Is he for sale, mate?" hisses another young fellow, proudly bearing many a blackened gap where sections of his teeth may have once been, complementing his equally black eye.

Then we bump into a relative, who is being yanked along by his actual real-life bloodhound that is almost as large as its 6ft 4ins owner.

As we then walk along together, the little boys and girls and their waddling mums make a beeline for the Retriever.

But all the blokes with greying ponytails and metal sticking out of their eyebrows, lips, and teeth head straight for the Great Fearsomely Toothed Slobberer, green with owner envy.

Further down the promenade we encounter an XL Bully standing hulking squat in the middle of the pavement like a young Bob Hoskins and an expression that says: "If you're not on the list, you're not coming in."

Of course, the owner assures us, it is definitely NOT an XL Bully – perish the thought – and, y'know, even if it was, which it isn't, everyone's got it wrong about that breed that isn't a breed in the first place.

No, his XL Bully that isn't an XL

Bully actually nurses newborn babies and has a permanent seat on the UN Security Council, he assures us, his eyes squinting in daylight which he doesn't often see.

There are about a gazillion something-or-other-apoo types, who are lovely and easy and – most importantly – Dyson-friendly, but mostly being walked by bored weekend dads while the kids they bought the sodding dog for in the first place ignore it.

Different dogs are perfect for different things, though.

Everyone knows that Old English Sheepdogs were bred to sell Dulux paint.

Just like cute, bumbling golden Labrador puppies were put on God's earth to ensure the sale of admittedly luxuriously quilted Andrex bog roll with which to wipe our arses.

(Which makes me wonder – if Andrex don't manufacture dog poo bags yet, shouldn't they get on with it?!)

Sausage makers once made a Border Terrier called Owen impossibly TV famous by suggesting he could actually say: "Walls."

A British Bulldog, meanwhile, sells insurance packages for Churchill, possibly to protect us from any future purchase of a Border Collie, which will turn any otherwise sane urban-dwelling owner quite mad.

The Golden Retriever, though?

Because Tugs has no interest whatsoever in doing anything like "retrieving" – tennis balls, shot-down birds, nuclear launch codes etc – it turns out he is bred to do just one of two things.

To permanently lie handsomely in front of roaring pub fireplaces.

Or to head north, don some antlers, and become Monarch of the Glen.

COVID cure fraud family banged up

A FATHER and his three sons will spend years in prison after they were convicted on fraud charges for selling bleach as a COVID-19 cure.

Mark Grenon, 66, and son Joseph, 36, of Bradenton, Florida, who fled to Colombia after officials first announced charges against them, were each sentenced to five years behind bars.

Mark's other two sons, Jonathan, 37, and Jordan, 29, were each sentenced to 12 years in prison for conspiracy and contempt for trying to "defraud the United States by distributing an unapproved and misbranded drug," the US Department of Justice said.

"The defendants preyed on vulnerable populations," Assistant US Attorney Michael Homer said at the sentencing hearing.

The family sold the dodgy COVID cure out of the Genesis II Church of Health and Healing, a fake house of worship they created to "avoid government regulation of MMS.

Stolen parrot tells officers its name

A PARROT was reunited with its owner three years after it was stolen, by shouting out its name to the police.

A vendor tried to sell the West African grey parrot near the Old Port of Marseilles, France, but the species is protected so the birds cannot be legally sold.

When police seized the talkative bird, which had no identification, it began to squawk, "Jako, Jako, Jako".

But one of the cops remembered that a colleague who had lost his parrot with the same name in 2020 told fellow officers the bird would say its name if found.

At long last, the officer was reunited with Jako at an animal shelter, where the bird's identity was confirmed.

West African grey parrots are worth about £2,000 and are frequently stolen to be sold illegally.

With an election just months away, here's the only poll that counts...

CLASSIC: Caroline with Men Behaving Badly co-stars

CAROLINE: I DO GARDENING IN THE BUFF

TELLY star Caroline Quentin has confessed to gardening with NO CLOTHES ON.

The Jonathan Creek and Men Behaving Badly actress also swims nude in her pond.

Caroline, 63 (left), revealed: "It depends on the time of year. I would either be in my dressing gown in the greenhouse if it's chilly, or, if it's really hot, nude in the greenhouse – it's not overlooked!

"I might go for a naked swim in the pond at home.

"If I get any real downtime, I like to sit in my pyjamas and draw or paint."

Meanwhile, Caroline admitted she has been fighting anxieties in older life, explaining: "I get more and more anxious as I get older.

"I'm seeking a bit of help for it at the moment – it tends to be about me or my loved ones not being OK."

She also said she has "lots" of regrets.

Caroline said: "Things that I've said and done, opportunities I've missed, and people I've hurt.

"And things I wish I'd said to someone who is now no longer alive.

"One of the things about getting older is that you look back and think, 'I wish I'd handled that better', but you just hope not to make the same mistakes again."

Meanwhile, Caroline told Woman & Home the most embarrassing thing she's ever done was "getting very drunk at an awards show", adding: "I was swearing when I got on stage. Thank God it wasn't televised!"

Dear Kelly,

MY mate's mum is a really great-looking blonde in her early 40s. I've fancied her for ages and a couple of weeks ago I started banging her. It was my 19th birthday and she had invited me to her place while my mate and his dad were at work to give me a "present". I'd been chatting to her the night before and she was flirting with me and ended up sucking my cock in my car after I gave her a lift home. She told me then that she couldn't invite me in for obvious reasons, but she did have a treat for my birthday. Bloody hell, did she! After she answered the door in just stockings and suspenders, I was hard within seconds. We went to bed and she gave me a really thorough sexual education. The only problem is that I'm worried that my mate will find out, not to mention his dad. What do you think?

JK, Lancs

Kelly says...

ONE way or another, you're going to get hurt!

Dear Kelly,

I WORK as a nightclub bouncer and as a result I get to shag quite a few fit babes. As you might expect, I'm quite a big bloke and the women seem to like my physique. They also seem to find my bald head and battered face an attraction. Just last week a couple of very tidy brunettes invited me back to their place at about four in the morning after I'd clocked off. It turned out that they were lesbians who enjoy a bit of cock now and then. It turned out to be a truly great experience. I screwed them both several times and they treated me to a lesbo show. The next night I pulled a mature blonde in her late 40s. She was brilliant in bed and let me do her in every hole. But all this casual sex isn't giving me the same buzz that it used to. Maybe I should find a regular girlfriend. What do you think?

FD, east London

Kelly says...

SOUNDS like you're maturing too.

I want to be more than a pal to my lesbo flatmate

Dear Kelly,

MY flatmate is a lesbian and I think I love her. I'm a 22-year-old guy and I've known her for years. We work together and decided to share a place, to save money. We've always got on well and have even had sex several times, too. Once she'd just broken up with her girlfriend and was a bit upset. I went down on her and licked her quim. And she took my cock in her mouth and gave me a really brilliant blowjob. Then I shagged her from behind and we both had terrific orgasms together. But a couple of nights later she brought another girl back and she's been seeing her ever since. Now I'm devastated. What should I do?

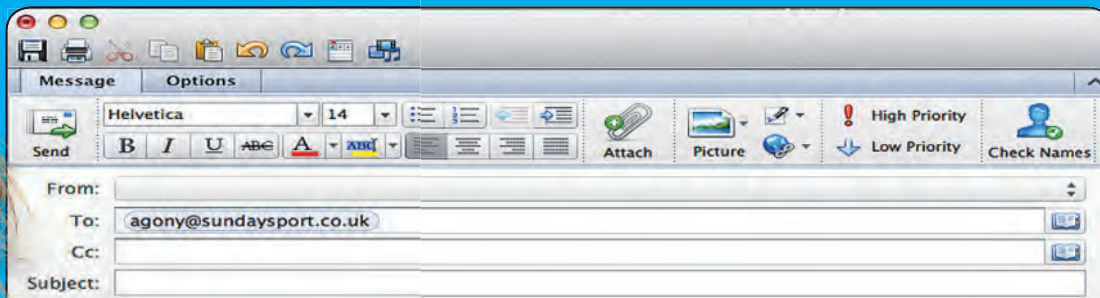

RD, south Yorkshire

Kelly says...

WAIT until they split up and give your pal a shoulder to cry on again. Or move out.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week KELLY McGREGOR has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Threesome solved problem of wanting girl's stunning pal

Dear Kelly,

MY girlfriend's best mate is a really gorgeous babe with a sensational body.

I ought to say straight out that my bird isn't too bad – in fact she can be quite a looker when she's standing next to most ordinary people.

But she pales in comparison with her friend.

Me and my girlfriend have been going out for four months now and when her mate's not around it's usually better for me because I don't spend all my time fretting about what I've missed out on.

Difficult

Anyway, it was all getting a bit difficult as I was starting to get obsessed about the other girl.

It wasn't really a logical thing to do, but I decided that I didn't want to see her mate again so I told my bird that she'd hit on me.

My girl went mad, as you might expect, and I wondered if I hadn't made a serious gaffe.

But then my girl said that she had a solution to our problem – a threesome!

She got more and more excited as she told me that it was a big fantasy of hers.

Naturally, I was more than happy to agree to her request. I thought I'd died and gone to heaven the night we all stripped off and slipped into bed.

My bird kicked things off, snogging her gorgeous pal and then licking her nipples while caressing her fanny.

Her friend responded by parting my girl's legs and licking her intimately.

When I got the nod I wasted no time boning them both, losing my mess several times.

They then sucked me off and I exploded all over their faces.

We now have regular threesomes. I never stay floppy for long because as soon as they start having sex with each other I'm ready to go again.

How lucky am I!

MJ, Wiltshire

Dear Kelly,

MY boyfriend has recently grown a bushy hipster beard and although he looks like a tramp, it is pure heaven when he goes down on me.

I love the feeling of his bristles on my inner thighs as he laps away at my sopping wet fanny.

And I can't get enough of his tongue on my clit.

I'm having some of the best orgasms of my life.

But it's nagging away at me that he's still a public embarrassment.

What should I do?

PJ, south Wales

Kelly says...

KEEP enjoying the threesomes!

Kelly says...

EASY, just keep him indoors!

Sneaky brother boned my babe

Dear Kelly,

I RECENTLY got back from six months touring the world and I'd really been looking forward to seeing my hot blonde girlfriend again.

But when we got together, it was clear that something wasn't as it used to be.

Then I got a surprise when my younger brother called to her place for a brew and he seemed very sure of himself around her house.

Then I caught them at it through the kitchen window when I got back from the shops one day.

She was bent over the ironing board as he was shafting her from behind and I could hardly believe my eyes as I watched him sliding in and out of her snatch.

Then she turned round before sinking to her knees and taking his cock in her mouth.

Yelled

She sucked on him greedily, taking his full length deep into her throat, and then got down on all fours so he could give it to her doggy-style.

I was amazed when she yelled in ecstasy as she climaxed and my brother shot his hot spunk over her arse-cheeks.

I gave them a few minutes to get dressed before walking in.

They pretended that nothing had gone on and I felt insulted that two people so close to me could be so fking mean to me.

What can I do to try to resolve this?

GD, Sussex

Kelly says...

NOT a lot. Let her go.

Dear Kelly,

I WENT out with my mates a few weeks ago and in the course of a drunken night I felt myself getting hornier and hornier.

I have a girlfriend, but I put her to the back of my mind as I danced with a cracking brunette babe.

In the end, she asked me to take her home. It was obvious she was after a shag – and I must say I was raring to give her one.

The problem came when we had both stripped off and dived into bed.

I spent ages giving her oral and she later did the same for me.

But nothing she could do with her tongue or hand could raise my dick.

She was understanding about it, but at the back of my mind I felt unable to do the business because I was thinking deep down about my current girlfriend.

Anyway, we agreed to meet the next night at her place.

It was so different. I had a raging stalk-on from the moment I walked in and shagged her senseless for hours.

Now we've been at it like rabbits for the past few weeks.

I don't know what happened to change things, but she's a great girl and now I'm torn between my girlfriend and this stunna.

What can I do?

KW, Newcastle

Kelly says...

GO with your gut feeling.

 The 34C beauty said her last fella was a chef, who hated her cooking and did everything in the kitchen himself.
 Now the Leicester stunna wants a man who will let her treat HIM in the kitchen and then reward her in the bedroom.
 She said: "I love cooking and treating my man but my last fella was a chef, so my cooking just didn't measure up to his high professional standards."
 "I'm good though, and my next man will get some great meals. My specialities are cottage pie and chicken curry.
 "And after I've slaved in the kitchen I'll want some good rewards for my efforts in the bedroom..."

OT 'N' HORNY

LOOK out fellas, Nicole Snow isn't just a pretty face – she's a trained BOXER! The beauty has been fighting in the ring since she was just seven years old and said the sport is the perfect excuse to show off her arse.

Nicole told us she's single and on the hunt for a hunky fella who can make her laugh and knows how to have a good time.

The Leeds lass stripped off and bared her jaw-dropping 32DDs for this steamy new photo shoot.

She added: "I love a man who is a bit cheeky and has a really good sense of humour – someone who can make me laugh and doesn't take life too seriously."

"I find that really attractive. But I don't like bragging and rudeness – that type of attitude is a huge turn-off for me."

"My perfect date would be on a nice warm beach. I'm a total beach babe so any chance for me to get in my bikini, and enjoy some sun and cocktails is right up my street..."

UEFA PUT TRUST IN UK AND EIRE

EUROS COME HOME

England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales to host 2028 final games

THE UK and Ireland will host Euro 2028.

Ten stadia across the five nations will host the matches in five years' time, with analysts projecting a £2.6bn boost to the host nation economies on the back of the tournament.

The bid was unopposed after Turkey withdrew to focus on a joint bid for the 2032 finals alongside Italy, and it was given the official seal of approval by UEFA's executive committee on Tuesday morning.

Wembley is set to host the final – and possibly both semi-finals – with the other English venues included in April's final bid submission being the Tottenham Hotspur Stadium, the Etihad Stadium, Villa Park, St James' Park and Everton's new ground at Bramley-Moore Dock.

Aviva Stadium and a redeveloped Casement Park in Belfast will also host matches.

Culture Secretary Lucy Frazer said: "I'm thrilled we've secured UEFA Euro 2028.

"It will be the biggest sporting event ever jointly hosted in the UK and Ireland.

"We will put on a brilliant tournament with fans at its heart. We will warmly welcome fans from across Europe to our islands' shores and give people memories that will last a lifetime.

"On top of that, the tournament is expected to deliver up to £2.6 billion of socio-economic benefit across the host nations, creating jobs and opportunities."

The news was met with excitement across the host nations, with Scottish

First Minister Humza Yousaf saying: "Football is Scotland's national game and a powerful force for good in communities right across the country.

"It is this combination which underpinned the Scottish Government's support for the successful joint bid.

"Hosting the Euros in Scotland will provide a range of opportunities, not only through the economic benefits of visiting fans but through a strong legacy programme that will help grow a more inclusive and diverse game right across the country."

Spectacular

Mark Drakeford, First Minister of Wales, said on X, formerly known as Twitter: "Fantastic to hear that Wales will host matches following the successful joint UK and Ireland bid. Together, we'll deliver an unforgettable and spectacular tournament – showcasing the best Cymru has to offer."

Irish Taoiseach Leo Varadkar wrote on X: "We're willing to invest in the Aviva Stadium & Casement Park to ensure our stadia, north and south, are ready to welcome the world.

"I also want to ensure there are benefits for football clubs all over the country & I look forward to engaging with the FAI on how we can achieve that."

Irish FA chief executive Patrick Nelson added: "We will make fans very welcome here in Northern Ireland and our role in this tournament will remind the world what a great city Belfast is."

All five nations are expected to go through qualification for the tournament, with UEFA understood to be reserving two host nation places for any of the teams which do

Stadiums for Euro 2028

ENGLAND: WEMBLEY

England's national stadium will host the final having also been the venue for the Euro 96 finale and the England v Italy clash at Euro 2020. The FA will be working hard with the authorities to ensure there is no repeat of the chaotic scenes which surrounded that match. Wembley is celebrating its centenary this year, with the original stadium opening in 1923 for the British Empire Exhibition.

ETIHAD STADIUM

Work is set to begin this year on increasing the capacity of treble-winning Manchester City's ground to 62,000 by 2025. It was built to host the 2002 Commonwealth Games and hosted the 2008 UEFA Cup final, while England's football and rugby sides have staged fixtures there.

TOTTENHAM STADIUM

Spurs' home is the largest club stadium in London, with a capacity of over 62,000. Opened in April 2019, it includes a retractable pitch with a synthetic NFL surface underneath. Its 17,500-seat, single-tier South Stand is the largest in the UK and features Europe's longest bar.

EVERTON STADIUM

The Toffees' new home at Bramley-Moore Dock is scheduled for completion late next year. Developers are working to a capacity of 52,888.

ST JAMES' PARK

St James' Park, home to Newcastle since 1892, also hosted matches at Euro 96. Newcastle are considering options to develop the stadium which might mean the capacity, 52,305, has increased by the time the championship begins in 2028.

VILLA PARK

Villa Park hosted three World Cup matches in 1966 and four during Euro 96. A go-to ground for FA Cup semi-finals – hosting 55 – the stadium is set to be redeveloped to increase capacity to over 50,000.

IRELAND: AVIVA STADIUM

The Dublin venue, which holds over 51,000 and

BUILDING: Everton

opened in 2010, hosts Ireland football matches and the Ireland rugby union team, as well as high-profile Gaelic sports. The stadium, built on the site of Lansdowne Road Stadium, which was demolished in 2007, had been part of the original multi-country plans to host Euro 2020 but could not ultimately provide UEFA with the necessary assurances over minimum spectator levels amid the Covid-19 pandemic.

N IRE: CASEMENT PARK

Construction on the site in the Andersonstown area of Belfast is due to get under way next year with completion by 2026. The capacity of the stadium is set to be 34,500. It was opened in 1953 to stage Gaelic games and has since been home to the Antrim Gaelic Athletic Association.

SCOTLAND: HAMPDEN PARK

Scotland's national stadium did host matches at Euro 2020. The Scottish Football Association has also bid to stage the Champions League final in 2026 or 2027 at the stadium, which currently holds just over 50,000. However, developers have put forward proposals to upgrade the stadium and increase capacity to 65,000. A record British crowd of 149,415 saw Scotland beat England 3-1 at Hampden in 1937.

WALES: PRINCIPALITY

The Cardiff venue has hosted major European football events before, having staged the 2017 Champions League final. Set to be the second-largest venue in the tournament with a capacity of 74,500.

not make it on merit. The FA have already told UEFA they want to go through the qualifiers.

The UK-Ireland bid would have been the overwhelming favourite to host Euro 2028 even if Turkey had remained in the race. Senior UEFA sources have repeatedly stressed the importance of hosting another European Championship in a major market – following on from Euro 2024 in Germany – as essential to boosting UEFA's finances in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic.

There will still be issues for the bid team to resolve over the next five years however – with agreement to be reached on who will fund the redevelopment of Casement Park. Plans for a 34,000 stadium have been delayed by legal challenges and are further complicated by the lack of a functioning Executive at Stormont.

Costs have also risen from an original estimate of £77.5million to more than £100m. The GAA is part-funding the project but has not reached an agreement with Stormont over where the remainder will come from.

Tuesday's decision means England will be involved in hosting a Euros for a third time. They hosted alone in Euro 96 and were one of 11 countries involved in staging the continent-wide Euro 2020.

Switch

The UK and Ireland associations first announced they were focusing on a bid for Euro 2028 in February last year.

It had been expected they would bid for the centenary World Cup in 2030 but FA chief Mark Bullingham admitted at the time there were "many areas of uncertainty" leading to the switch in focus.

Keep Jofra out of Cup says Eoin

ENGLAND's World Cup-winning former captain Eoin Morgan believes it would be "naïve" to call on Jofra Archer in this year's tournament.

Archer played a key role in securing the trophy for Morgan's men four years ago, topping the wicket charts and delivering the nail-biting super over in the Lord's final.

But the Barbados-born seamer has played just seven ODIs since that day, with a litany of fitness problems making him a regular in the treatment room while he has not featured competitively since the IPL in May.

He is scheduled to join up with England as a reserve – to oversee his continued rehabilitation from a stress fracture of the elbow and as an injury replacement if required.

There is hope Archer could play a part in the business end of the competition, but Morgan has urged caution.

"It's not something that I'm thinking would be a good idea," said Morgan, who is in India as an ICC World Cup ambassador.

"Right here and now I don't know because he's not played and we don't know what he's capable of. Given the injury issue that he's had in recent times I think it would be naïve of anybody to think just chuck him in whenever you can because we're either desperate or feel that you need an option."

"Obviously the feedback about when he's trained with the team has been that he's back bowling beautifully, but you would like to see that in a game, you would like to see that in a continuous performance."

Morgan's successor as skipper, Jos Buttler, offered no new clues about Archer's status but confirmed he would be in the country shortly and linking back up with his team-mates.

"He's coming out soon. The plan is obviously to finish off the rehab stages of coming back from his injury," he said.

"He's continuing to build up and rehab and that's a great place for him to be able to do that in and around the squad. Obviously if he builds up and everything then should the worst case happen it's a conversation."

Morgan gave a big endorsement of Ben Stokes' importance to England's title defence. Like Archer, he was essential in 2019, when his never-say-die attitude carried the eventual champions back from the brink in the final.

Having reversed his ODI retirement to take part he has been laid low by a hip problem since arriving.

But Morgan believes his presence carries even more weight than it did previously, given the achievements he has racked up along the way.

"Is he as influential as he was? Even more so I'd say," said the Irishman.

"He just continues to deliver when the team needs and creates belief and confidence around that and if you play with a guy that has crossed the finish line on numerous occasions, and speaks in straight lines and not riddles, it's genuine."

"I think the thing that we can't measure when it comes to Ben is how much he contributes in the changing room and how much he makes other players better around him."

Desert Crown

MIDAIR CAN GET OFF TO A FLYER

MIDAIR can open his account at the third time of asking in the British EBF Future Stayers Oath Novice Stakes at Nottingham.

Many a smart horse has won at the Midlands venue over the years, not least the 1999 Derby winner after whom this race is named as well as three other recent winners of the premier Classic in Golden Horn (2015), Adayar (2021) and Desert Crown (2022).

It would be optimistic in the extreme to suggest Midair can go on to scale such lofty heights, but he has shown enough in his two starts to date to suggest a race such as this is within his compass.

A son of Frankel out of Group Two-winning mare Modern Look, the Juddmonte-owned juvenile was never really able to get competitive after a slow start on his Newmarket debut, but shaped a good deal better at Goodwood last month.

The youngster sweated up beforehand and was keen during the race, so it is testament to his ability that he managed to get within a length of hot favourite Caviar Heights, who has since been well held in the Royal Lodge but is rated in the mid-90s.

The training partnership of Roger and Harry Charlton has been among the winners over the past couple of weeks and with further improvement anticipated, Midair is expected to add to their tally.

Spanish Poet gets the vote in the British Stallion Studs EBF Nursery Handicap.

Ralph Beckett's juvenile looked a smart prospect when devouring testing conditions on his way to an introductory win at Sandown, but the Listed Stonehenge Stakes at Salisbury proved a bridge too far.

As a son of Lope De Vega, the return to an easier surface ought to see him in a better light and a mark of 84 for his handicap debut looks fair enough.

Sanction can complete her hat-trick in the Trustatrade Fully Vetted Tradespeople Fillies' Handicap.

The daughter of Camelot hinted at ability on her third of three starts in maiden and novice company for William Haggas and is two from two in handicaps since joining Ed Bethell.

She was going away at the finish here over a mile and a quarter in August and a 6lb rise was nowhere enough to prevent her from following up over a mile and a half in soft ground at Catterick last time.

With a further rise in distance to a mile and three-quarters expected to hold no fears, Sanction can defy another 6lb hike and continue her winning streak.

The unbeaten Mezzo Soprano is rated the best bet on the all-weather at Kempton in the opening Unibet Horserace Betting-Operator Of The Year Handicap.

Strike

The daughter of Exceed And Excel has a long way to go to pay back her €360,000 price tag, but has made a perfect start with two comfortable novice wins in the north at Catterick and Thirsk respectively.

Mezzo Soprano moves into handicaps from an opening perch of just 75 and with champion jockey William Buick booked for the ride, she looks to have been found a perfect spot to strike again.

Sure Touch can make a successful debut over fences at Ludlow.

The seven-year-old won four of his 10 over hurdles and very nearly made it five when beaten a head on his most recent appearance at Catterick 11 months ago.

Sure Touch's fitness has to be taken on trust after a lengthy absence, but trainer Oilly Murphy has his string in excellent form at this early stage of the season and a drop back in distance for the JSR Construction Industrial Concrete Flooring Novices' Limited Handicap Chase looks the right way to go.

Restandbethankful bolted up on his first start for Lizzie Quinlan at Sedgefield last week and should defy a penalty on his return to the County Durham circuit in the Vickers Bet Handicap Chase.

Ollie says Fiji will be in another fine mess

CHESSUM: ENGLAND ARE A VERY DIFFERENT BEAST TO TWICKERS

OLLIE Chessum has warned Fiji that they did not face the true England in their historic victory at Twickenham in August.

England's build-up to the World Cup reached its lowest ebb when they lost to the Islanders for the first time in eight meetings, at the same time registering a fifth defeat in six Tests.

They have since regrouped by stitching together four wins to finish top of Pool D and their next obstacle is the rematch when the rivals clash in the quarter-finals in Marseille on Sunday.

"Fiji bring a lot of free-flowing rugby and a lot of offloading. They're big, powerful men that come off the back fence and they're a physical team," Leicester lock Chessum said.

"They picked us apart, really, at Twickenham. We weren't really ourselves – we weren't anywhere near good enough."

"A few weeks have gone by since then and we've learned from our mistakes. We feel like we've been building nicely. We know what to expect from Fiji."

RUGBY WORLD CUP

England's preparations for the last-eight showdown begin in earnest on Tuesday and they are in the enviable position of operating with a clean bill of health.

Sam Underhill has joined up with the squad after Jack Willis was ruled out of the tournament by a neck injury and the Bath flanker is in contention for a place in the matchday 23 named by Steve Borthwick on Friday.

Great

The prize on offer is a semi-final against France or South Africa and defence coach Kevin Sinfield has urged England's players to seize the moment.

"I think these are the best weeks."

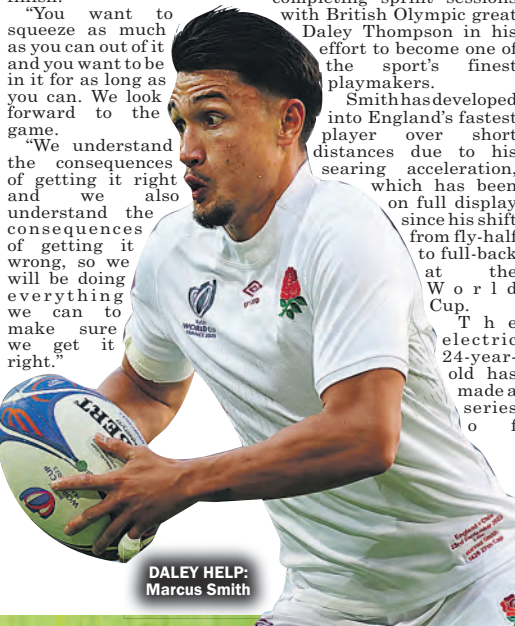

"There's certainly an added pressure. If you don't get it right you are going home," rugby league great Sinfield said.

"I know, everyone has missed home throughout this period but when you get to this point you are not ready for the competition to finish.

"You want to squeeze as much as you can out of it and you want to be in it for as long as you can. We look forward to the game."

"We understand the consequences of getting it right and we also understand the consequences of getting it wrong, so we will be doing everything we can to make sure we get it right."

DALEY HELP:
Marcus Smith

Marcus Smith has been completing sprint sessions with British Olympic great Daley Thompson in his effort to become one of the sport's finest playmakers.

Smith has developed into England's fastest player over short distances due to his searing acceleration, which has been on full display since his shift from fly-half to full-back at the World Cup.

The electric 24-year-old has made a series of influential cameos off the bench and also shone in his only start in the full-back position against Chile, producing a superb solo score as part of a two-try haul.

Smith reveals his pace is the result of sessions with Thompson, the two-time Olympic decathlon gold medallist, as he looks to emulate two famed New Zealand ringmasters.

Joy

"For the last five or six years I've been working hard on my speed," Smith said.

"Guys like Richie Mo'unga and Beauden Barrett have the ability to score not just 10-metre tries but from 50 or 60 metres out. That's something that I've wanted to add to my game."

"Credit goes to people who I've worked with down in Brighton and Daley Thompson and the guys that I work with in America."

"They put a lot of effort into me and I've loved every minute training with those guys. It's been a joy and it has definitely opened my eyes to sprinting and speed work."

CITY WIN FIRES UP GUNNERS

Martinelli believes crucial victory can help Arsenal go one better this time

GABRIEL Martinelli says Arsenal's inherent belief will only be boosted by beating champions Manchester City as Mikel Arteta's men look to go one step further than last season.

The Gunners captured the imagination during a strong 2022-23 campaign, only to ultimately finish second as Pep Guardiola's side scooped a third straight title in a storming end to the season.

Arsenal's inability to take a point off them was key in them finishing second and Sunday saw them finally beat City in the league for the first time since 2015, building on their Community Shield shoot-out triumph against the treble winners.

The half-time introduction of Martinelli after three weeks out with a hamstring injury proved inspired, adding extra impetus to the attack before eventually hitting a late winner that deflected in off Nathan Ake to seal a 1-0 victory.

"We know how hard it is to play against them," the Brazil international said. "It was a great performance from the team and a great win."

"Of course (it gives us more belief we can win this season's title). We are Arsenal and we are always believing about the title."

"To win against a big side like them is great and we just need to carry on."

"A special day for me. I tried my best, really hard, to be back with the team and it was a great moment for me."

"It's always good to win against the big teams and we did it today. I'm so happy."

Arsenal remain unbeaten eight league matches into the season and are level in terms of points and goal difference with leaders Tottenham, with their bitter rivals only ahead on goals scored.

"When you play for Arsenal you have to always believe and this is what we do," Martinelli said as they look to bring the Premier League title back to north London for the first time since 2004.

Victory

"We play for Arsenal and we always believe we can win the titles."

"It's another year. We're going to try to improve things and try to do better than last year."

"Yeah, I think (there is more depth). We have a great team and it's important to have a lot of options."

Sunday's victory win was made all the more impressive by the fact Arsenal's star man Bukayo Saka was missing, with a muscle injury ending his run of 87 successive Premier League appearances. "We know our potential," Martinelli said. "We know his potential and how important he is for us."

"Today we did our best, tried to win the game for our fans, for us and for B as well."

Arsenal return to action at Chelsea after the international break, though neither Saka nor Leandro Trossard will join up with their national teams after injury ruled them out of contention.

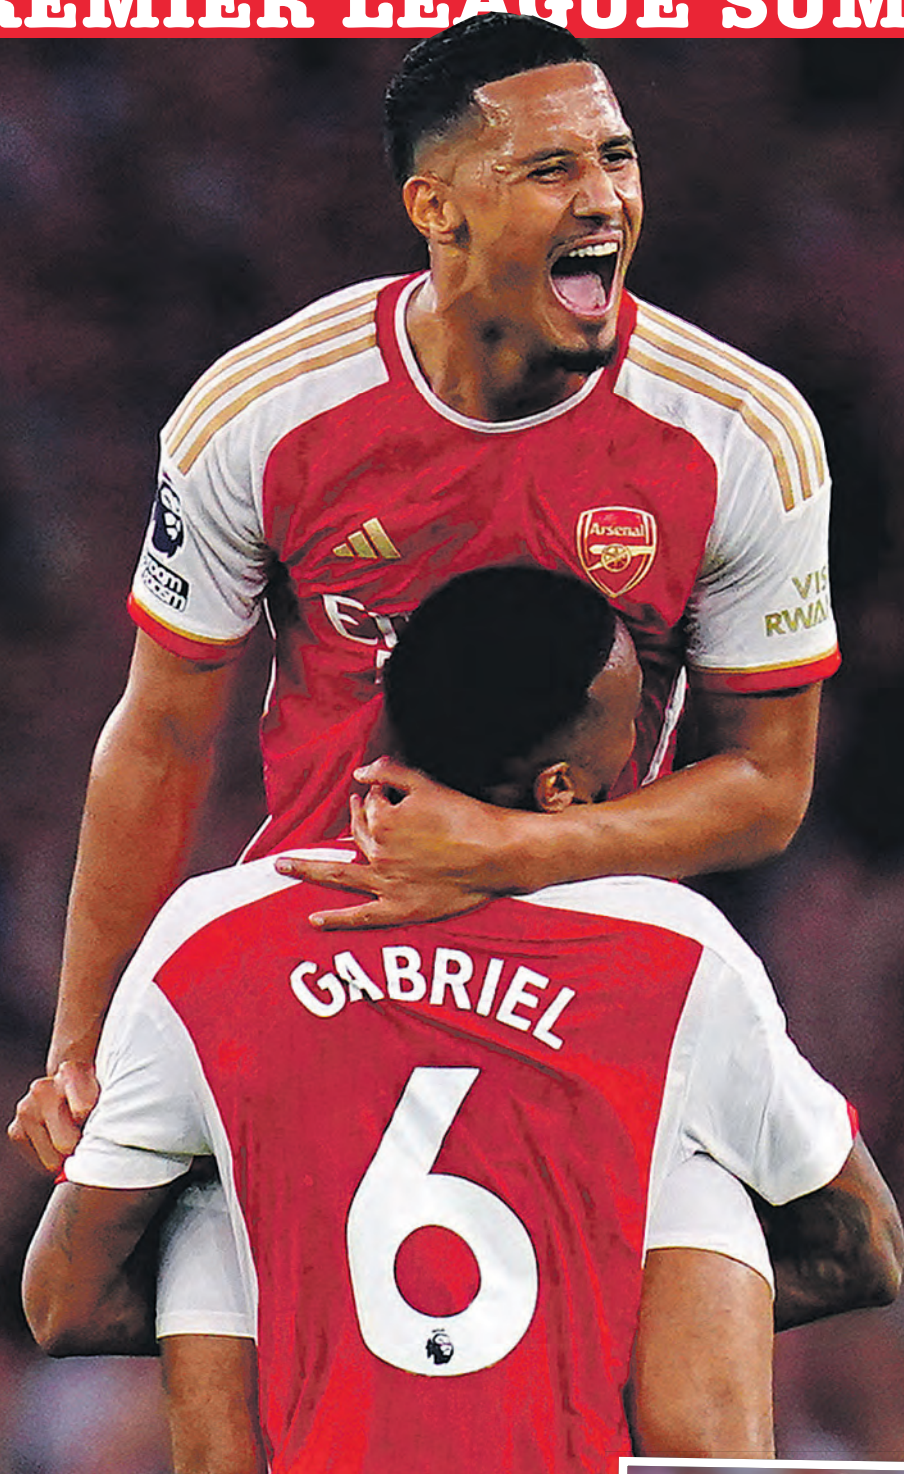

Saka withdrew from Gareth Southgate's England squad with a hamstring problem he picked up during the Gunners' Champions League defeat to Lens last week, while Trossard is out of the Belgium side after being forced off at half-time on Sunday.

Wounded City look to get their title defence back on track at home to Brighton.

Guardiola's men have lost three of their last four matches in all competitions, including back-to-back Premier League matches for the first time since December 2018. City midfielder Bernardo Silva said: "It's a setback but it's still the beginning."

PREMIER LEAGUE SUMMIT

GUNNING FOR THE TOP: Arsenal celebrated their win over City with gusto

"We're far away from the end of the season."

"It was not the result we wanted. Against a tough opponent it is never easy to play."

"We felt the game was tough for both teams. Both are tough and organised and tense. We had a few chances in the beginning."

Mustered

"In the end it was a deflection. In my opinion we gave them too much time to think at that moment. We have to be more intense in the pressing."

"It is what it is. It's part of football and we move onto the next one."

City struggled to lay a glove on an Arsenal side that they had beaten in 12 consecutive Premier League meetings before Sunday.

Guardiola's men mustered a mere four shots at the Emirates Stadium, but Silva is not getting carried away with the loss or the recent drop off.

"Some of these results we were not expecting and we didn't want them to happen," he said.

"Last season we won the treble but there was a point that nothing was going our way."

"How you overcome these moments is what defines the team and we will keep fighting for all the games. We're going for it again."

City have been boosted by the return to full training of John Stones.

The England international was a revelation last season as he stepped out of his centre-back role into midfield.

He hasn't played since the Community Shield in August with a thigh problem. Guardiola said: "John is much better. He feels good but will be able to restart maybe after the break."

Wazza set to take over as Birmingham boss

BIRMINGHAM City want Wayne Rooney installed as their new boss by this weekend.

Blues have made the England legend their No1 target after showing John Eustace the door despite a good start to the season.

Rooney has jetted into the UK for talks about taking over at St Andrew's just days after he left DC

By JOHN ANTHONY

United in America's Major League Soccer.

Birmingham chief executive Garry Cook explained the timing of Eustace's exit was driven by giving the manager time.

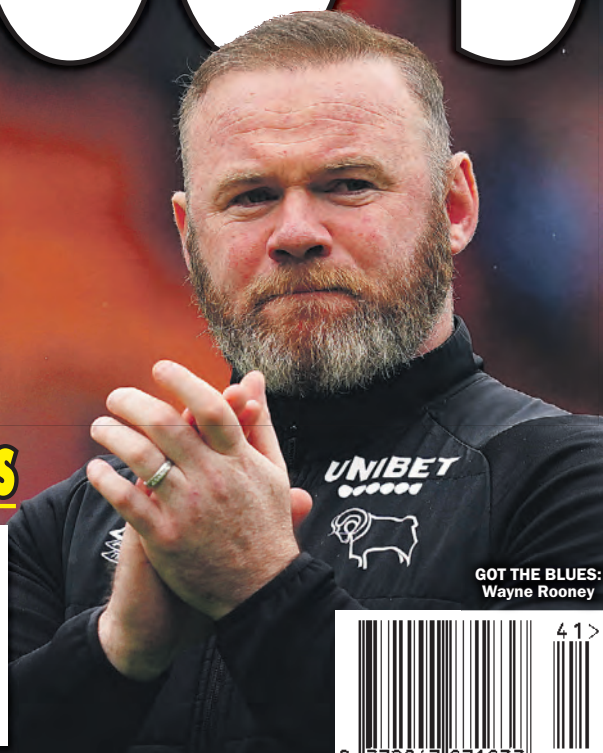

He said: "John had clear ambitions and goals for the season.

"Unfortunately, following a series of meetings, it became clear that there was a misalignment with the leadership of the club. When this happens, the best thing to do is to part company.

"The timing allows the incoming manager sufficient time to evaluate the players ahead of the January transfer window.

"We have overseen the start of a transformation that not even the most optimistic Blues fan would have considered possible. And this is just the beginning."
